

Rock4Xmas Foundation on tour again

Now in its ninth year, the Rock 4 XMas Foundation is presenting its annual holiday tour, covering over thirty cities throughout the US. And again this year, Community Professional Loudspeakers is proud to help sponsor the tour, donating six of the company's road-worthy M12 stage monitors for the events.

Founded in 1996 by Morrison Music and Production's Wayne Morrison, the Rock 4 XMas Foundation works to bring food, gifts and holiday spirit to less fortunate families by hosting the annual concert series. Past shows have featured performances by Bad Animals, Blue Oyster Cult, Randy Jackson, and members of Toto, Quiet Riot, Dio, Vanilla Fudge and many others.

"The annual Rock 4 XMas tour is a massive effort, and has grown bigger every year," remarked Morrison. "We'd never be able to pull it off without the help of our sponsors. "Community has been a generous supporter of the organization, and we really appreciate their contributions. The response of these Community speakers is incredible! We can finally hear what's going on clearly, and perform with the dynamics the music needs."

"Every fall, Wayne and his group work tirelessly for a really worthy cause," added Julia Lee, Community's Director of Sales and Marketing. "They're an inspiration to people in our industry and elsewhere, and we're proud to be associated with Rock 4 XMas."

© 12/2005 Pro-Music-News